

La Table des Amis de Provence

invites you to join us for

An apéro/dîatoire and book discussion with the author

Eygalières

19h30 - 21h30

Monday, 24 July 2023

Julie Scolnik, the flutist whom many of you met at her concert in June, is also the author of a memoir called Paris Blue, set against a backdrop of classical music and Paris in the late 70's, about the grip of first love and the role of memory in our lives.

She lives in Eygalières in the summer and has asked if members of La Table Des Amis de Provence might be interested in coming to her beautiful terrace with a magnificent view for an apéro dînatoire-ish evening and a discussion of her book with Q and A.

There will be no charge for this event but she asks that attendees get her book on Amazon.fr or promise to buy one at the event.

Reading her book ahead of time will really make the event fun but is not a requirement!

Here is a book trailer to entice you. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AsmELywQOMY>

All info about the book is also here:
www.JulieScolnik.com

RSVP to info@latabledesamis.com latest by 22 July. Julie's address and parking information will be provided to you in the confirmation email.

With thanks to our member Julie for her generous offer to share her home and hospitality, this event is under the auspices of La Table des Amis de Provence, a non-profit association that connects wine and food lovers to a table of friends.

Membership fees: 15 € single, 25 € couples
